Dear Sir or Madam,

Hello from Hamburg!

We hope you and your communities are doing well. With summer, IACAC, deadlines and the next intake just around the corner, we wanted to send you a quick update and some news from us at KLU.

Do you still have students undecided for Fall 2021?

In line with German public institutions, our applications are open until July 15th for European citizens or residents. All of our programs will start both in-person and online (in case of visa delays or health concerns). If you have a student interested in studying business in English in Europe, please share our programs with them.

Will you be at the IACAC Summer Conference next week?

If so, we would LOVE to reconnect virtually with you! Feel free to meet us at the Virtual fair on July 13th or 14th, or add ‘Studying in Germany’ to your schedule to hear tips and information from Nicole and copresenters from an international school and another university.

Are you wondering where KLU bachelor students go after graduating?

Check out this short article to hear about the next steps for KLU students. From Hamburg to MIT, St. Gallen and beyond, our Bachelor students receive the support and are well prepared for exceptional careers and educational opportunities. Hear about their experiences as undergraduate students at KLU.

On a final note, from KLU we want to say Thank you for the efforts, innovations and challenges you and your communities have overcome in the last year. And congratulations for both the small victories to the milestone successes, it has been an unprecedented year, congratulations!

If there is anything we can do to support you and your international communities during this time, please be sure to let us know.
A Positive Outlook

The student experience is more than just cramming for the next test. More often than not, it's also about getting to know a new city, making new friends and going out, and starting new projects together. What effects has COVID-19 had on student life?

Application Deadlines

KLU is committed to supporting and providing flexibility to applicants during this time, stay up to date with our FAQ. We have added an additional Scholarship round (July 15th), and our application deadline remains July 15th for Europeans citizens or residents.

Fall 2022 Applications open in November!

Vaccinations at KLU

COVID-19 vaccinations are an important part of the global fight against the disease and a step toward more normality in our day-to-day lives. In the last few weeks, KLU was fortunately able to offer interested employees and students the option of being vaccinated.
