Dear Nicole,

Summer greetings from Sophia and Kim at KLU! Time flies this year, and we are getting ready for the new student intake – in a completely new format! Since the global pandemic needs to be dealt with in a flexible manner, “flexibility” is what best describes our handling of the new semester start: We will be offering all our teaching in a hybrid mode this coming year, meaning that our students can choose to study either on our campus or online from home. Overall, the safety of the KLU community is of utmost importance to us.

We will also continue to make use of online formats when attracting new potential students to KLU – the online versions of our Open Day and other virtual events such as our Bachelor Webinar Series have made it easy especially for international students to connect with us in an online, yet personalized way. Please already mark your calendars for our next Open Day on November 14 and also keep in mind that our application system will open again on November 1 - we look forward to receiving applications from your students!

Kim & Sophia
Meet our professors up close and personal on these short videos on what they think sets KLU apart from other universities.

This year’s DAAD Prize goes to Bachelor graduate Emily Erika von Bergen Takushi, for her outstanding achievements in all different kinds of student activities at KLU. Read up on her story here.

We want to provide you only with valuable content in these newsletters, so please help in defining what the topics are you want to read about! Simply fill in this survey to let us know!

LAST BUT NOT LEAST

- Student insight by MSc student Fritzi on how to win a case study competition
- Information on the Corona situation in Germany
- Read more about our score in the U-Multirank!

IMPRINT & PRIVACY POLICY

Imprint:
Please visit the imprint on our homepage.

Privacy Policy.
For information concerning our privacy policy, please visit our homepage.

If you are not interested in receiving more information via newsletter, you have the possibility to unsubscribe here.

Please enter the sender’s address in your contacts to get displayed all pictures and graphics.